

OdessaPY conference

Learn, Meet & Share.
Spend the warmest autumn days
in sunny Odessa

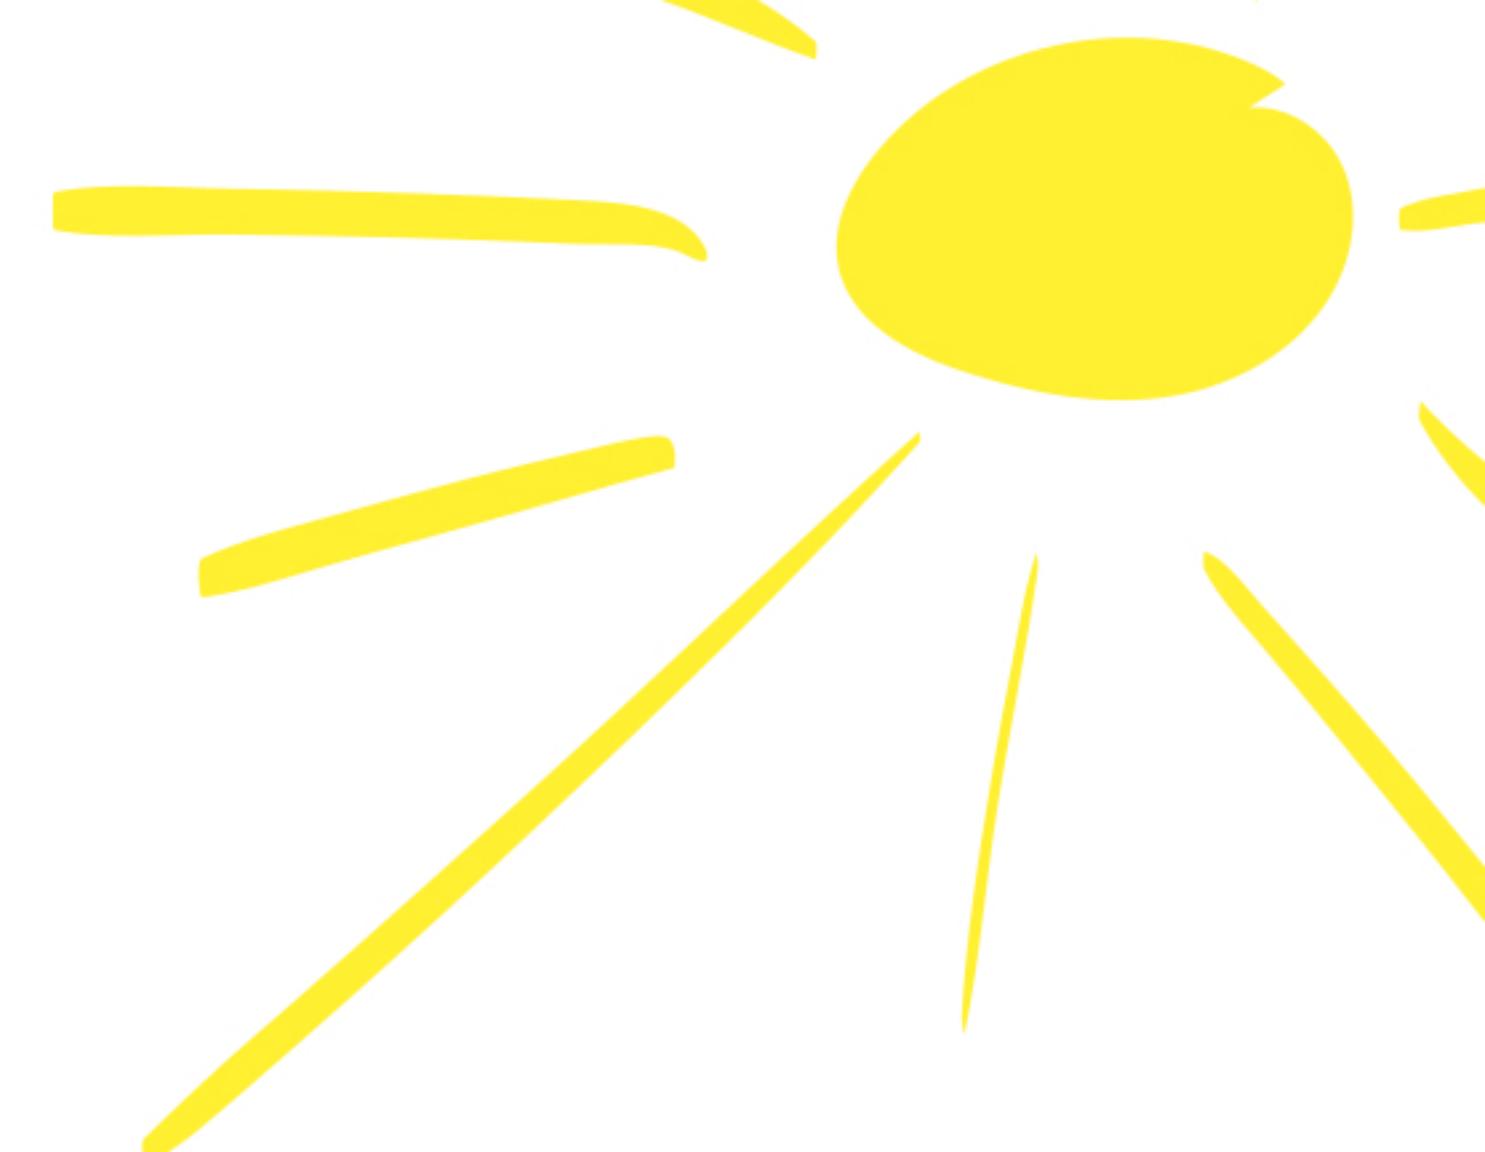

September 30, 2018

It's time for Ukrainian
Python Community to catch up.

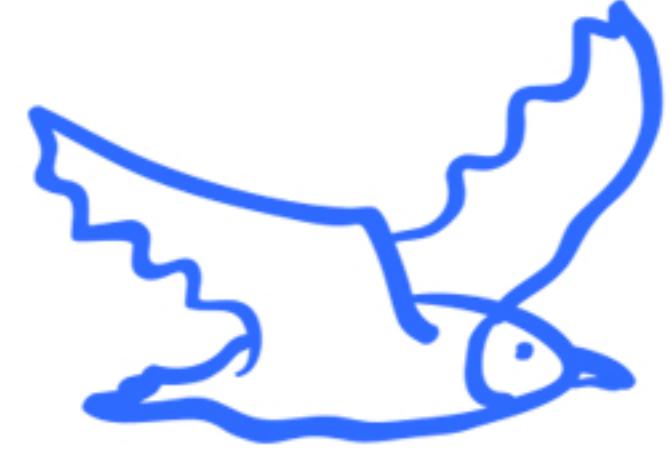

The first Python Conference in Odessa – OdessaPy – was held in December 2013. It was attended by more than 75 guests from Ukraine, Russian Federation, and Moldova. The event program was quite saturated and covered various Python programming aspects.

It's going to be the second Python - focused conference organized in Odessa.
It will last for one full day and will feature three formats that will help the attendees to get the in-depth knowledge of current Python technologies as well as share their own experience, have their questions answered, and meet up with likeminded people.

Friendly community

We care about building a companionable community of truly enthusiastic experts in Python programming. That's why we prepare a pre-party and after-party as well as develop new meetup formats to motivate people to start chatting and sharing their experience.

Warm atmosphere

We care about the welcoming atmosphere. Warm weather by the sea is always associated with easiness and help build connections and enjoyable memories. That's why we've again selected Odessa as the place for the PyCon. Indian summer weekend by the warm Black sea will make our guests feel free to express themselves and easily connect during the conference.

Strong technical content

Each time we do our best to prepare a strong and interesting conference program. We care about in-depth technical competences and useful Python background as well as a vast performance experience of every speaker to cover the participants' needs and expectations.

PRE-PARTY

Join us at the conference pre-party with a light relaxed atmosphere and listen to our speakers sharing how to work on the soft skills that are critical for any developer's growth.

TALKS FROM EXPERTS FROM MAIN STAGE

Speeches by experienced speakers, pros in their fields
40-minute long performances + QA time

TECH CORNERS

These spaces will be made to create a possibility to ask a lot of questions even if you don't have experience on the given topic but really want to get into it now. It will also be a great place to meet like-minded people to discuss the technologies you've tried and liked.

SPEAKERS COACH

Once they are done with the speeches, we'll invite all our speakers to the Speakers' Coach/Corners zone. Come over, say 'hi', ask all questions that you wanted to ask during Q&A but did not due to any reason.

SPEAKERS DINNER

At Speakers Dinner you'll be able to connect, communicate with the speakers and sponsors of the event as well as hear their feedback.
